CLIENT COMMUNICATION AND ENGAGEMENT ETHICS SOP

Document No.	PP-SOP-004 (Proposal)	Version	1.0 (Proposal)
Responsible	HR/Sales/Marketing Manager	Approval	CEO, then Owner
Review cycle	Every 12 months	Related documents	PP-SOP-001; PP-IT-001

1. Purpose & Scope

• Set consistent, honest, respectful, and secure practices for communication with customers, group-booking clients, event organizers, suppliers acting as clients, and other business contacts.

• All staff must follow this SOP, PP-SOP-003 (Professional Communication Ethics SOP), PP-SOP-001 (General Office SOPs), and PP-IT-001 (IT Rules and Regulations Policy), as applicable.

2. First Contact, Onboarding & Needs Assessment

• Respond politely, introduce yourself and Pixel Palace, identify the client's purpose, and record only the contact information needed to handle the enquiry.

• Clarify requirements such as number of players, preferred date/time, gaming preferences, event type, duration, accessibility or safety needs, budget range if volunteered, and any special arrangements.

• Confirm availability with Operations before promising a time slot, capacity, equipment, or event setup. Record the agreed scope, client contact, decision-maker where relevant, and next action in the approved CRM or tracker.

3. Proposals, Quotations & Follow-up

• Provide written proposals or quotations that clearly state services, quantities or session duration, price, applicable taxes/fees if any, deposit/payment terms, validity period, cancellation/refund terms, exclusions, and the person authorized to approve.

• Do not invent discounts, hide fees, exaggerate equipment or services, guarantee results, or promise unconfirmed availability or delivery dates. Obtain required management and Finance approval before offering exceptions.

• Proposed response standard: acknowledge enquiries within 1 business day. Follow up on an open quotation after 1 day, then after 3 days, and once after 7 days, unless the client declines or opts out. Respect the client's preferred contact channel.

4. Meetings & Records

• Agree the purpose, participants, date, and agenda for meetings. Keep discussion professional and avoid recording meetings unless authorized and appropriately disclosed.

• Send concise meeting minutes or a written recap, normally within 2 business days (proposal), recording key needs, decisions, quotation changes, commitments, action owners, and due dates.

• Store client communications and documents in approved company systems. Do not rely on verbal promises for material changes; confirm them in writing.

5. Confidentiality, Privacy & Boundaries

• Use client information only for legitimate business purposes and share it only with authorized colleagues who need it. Follow PP-IT-001 for approved systems, access, data handling, and incident reporting.

• Do not disclose one client's pricing, contact details, booking, or private information to another client. Collect and retain only necessary information and follow applicable law and company retention rules.

• Maintain professional boundaries. No harassment, discrimination, coercion, misleading personal relationships, or inappropriate use of client contact details.

• Disclose any personal, family, financial, or other interest that could influence a client decision, vendor choice, pricing, or allocation of services to the relevant manager before proceeding.

6. Complaints, Escalation & Service Recovery

• Listen without arguing, acknowledge the concern, record the facts, and explain the next step without admitting unverified facts or making unauthorized promises.

• Log the date, client, issue, evidence, impact, requested resolution, owner, status, and follow-up date. Proposed acknowledgement target: within 1 business day; urgent safety or security concerns must be escalated immediately.

• Escalate routine unresolved complaints to the HR/Sales/Marketing Manager; operational or facility issues to the Operations Officer; billing disputes to the Finance Director; security or data concerns to the relevant manager. Serious or unresolved matters may be escalated to the CEO and then Owner as appropriate.

• Use the incident response targets in existing policy where an issue qualifies as an incident: critical 15 minutes, high 1 hour, medium 1 working day, low 3 working days. These are response targets, not guaranteed resolution times.

7. Feedback, Satisfaction & Offboarding

• After a booking or event, invite brief voluntary feedback through an approved channel. Record satisfaction, complaints, repeat-booking interest, and agreed corrective actions; avoid pressuring clients to provide positive feedback.

• Close the client record when the enquiry or engagement ends: note final status, completed services, payments or outstanding issues, feedback, and any agreed future contact.

• Remove or restrict access to client information when no longer needed, subject to lawful retention requirements. Handle refunds, cancellations, and disputes under approved terms; do not promise exceptions without authorization.

8. Responsibilities, Approval & Review

• The Sales Executive manages enquiries, follow-ups, quotations, and CRM entries. The HR/Sales/Marketing Manager oversees client engagement and sales commitments. The Finance Director validates pricing/payment matters; the Operations Officer confirms capacity and delivery; the CEO handles significant escalations.

• Review this SOP every 12 months or sooner if needed. The CEO reviews and recommends changes, followed by final approval from the Owner.

Verification note: PP-SOP-004, version 1.0, and the proposed response/follow-up targets are for verification. Confirm quotation terms, refund/cancellation rules, and CRM processes before approval.
